CulperSec®
Complete Technology Solutions

The Next Generation of Managed Security Services.

We've designed our products and services with you in mind.

The CulperSec Solution

Cybercrime is an ever-expanding and increasingly complex problem and with all of the different vendors, technologies and methodologies out there, it's easy to see why many organizations suffer from information overload.

The CulperSec solution combines technology and talent to better protect organizations from sophisticated cyber-attacks. The CulperXDR Platform combines a cloud, hybrid-cloud and on-premise Security Information and Event Management platform with the advanced and lightweight endpoint CulperAgent - responsible for collecting security events, monitoring file and registry integrity, detecting compliance violations and the direct execution of active responses.

Managed Detection and Response

A fully managed (or co-managed) solution for organizations of all sizes. With our MDR services, your team will receive actionable alerts escalated to you directly from our SOC or, with a co-managed deployment, your team will be able to triage and escalate to our team for additional insight and review.

You'll be given access to a team of Incident Responders who can help provide guidance during serious incidents, provide remediation recommendations, and interact with IR firms engaged by insurance providers.

Managed IT Security

Manage and monitor more than just SIEM, our team will work with you on the design, implementation, monitoring and on-going support of various security architectures and technologies including Email Security, Data Security Management, XDR, Firewalls and more.

Our team of IT security experts will help guide you in all areas of IT and Security to ensure that your organization operates smoothly, with minimal interruption and in a state of constant security piece of mind.

Managed Assessments

With Managed Assessments, you can get access to recurring assessments such as Penetration Testing, Vulnerability Management, Social Engineering and even full Red Team assessments on a reccurring schedule that fits the needs of your organization.

Validating your security posture through assessments of this type will allow for piece of mind when thinking about your organizations security posture, as well as lay to rest concerns from auditors and third-parties.
