The Next Generation of Cybersecurity Professional Services.

We've designed our products and services with you in mind.

The CulperSec Solution

Cybercrime is an ever-expanding and increasingly complex problem and with all of the different vendors, technologies and methodologies out there, it's easy to see why many organizations suffer from information overload.

The CulperSec solution combines technology, talent and professional services to better protect organizations from sophisticated cyber-attacks. CulperSec offers a multitude of Professional Services geared toward helping organizations identify risk, meet compliance goals, and build a better security program. Our Penetration Testing, Vulnerability Assessments and vCISO Consulting Services will help your organization to scale and expand while resting a little bit easier knowing that your organizational risk is managed.

Vulnerability Assessments

Vulnerability assessments are used to identify, quantify, and analyze security vulnerabilities in the IT infrastructure and applications.

Engaging CulperSec for regular vulnerability assessments gives your organization the tools and data it needs to make informed decisions on patching, configuration, and system hardening. Our security team combines automated and manual approaches to take full advantage of the vulnerability assessment process.

Penetration Testing

Are you prepared for an attack from and Advanced Persistent Threat? Are you able to detect a threat actor moving laterally inside of your network? Do you really know?

Penetration Testing uses the same techniques and methodologies used by real-world threat actors to identify dangerous security misconfigurations, vulnerable systems, and gaps in detection. Traditional Vulnerability Scanners only go so far, a skilled penetration tester is able to identify far more.

vCISO Consulting Services

Our vCISO services help executives, security and technology teams safeguard organizational and information assets while supporting business operations with expertise to reduce business risk, affirm commitment to data security and enhance your overall security posture.

Our team can assist with audits, compliance reports, board meetings, strategy and more. Let our skilled vCISOs handle the complexities of your cybersecurity posture.
